

I think since we are paying our own phone bills we should reserve the right to who we would and would not like calling us. Last year I was able to change my home phone number to my cell phone. Some companies have my "home" number, which is really my cell phone. Why should I have to pay for them to call me and me tell them I am not interested? That is not fair! If I am in need of a service there are better advertising tactics. If their tactics are good enough to catch my attention, then they will receive my call. My home is my place and I do not need to be bothered by some unwarranted call!! Keep Wisconsin's No Call List as is!!!!
